

Lufthansa Systems

NEW

Advising airlines on how to become GDPR compliant

Need support with compliance rules and regulations?

Get advice for any eventuality

As an airline company, you process and store your customers' personal data. In accordance with the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), personal data pertaining to passengers or employees from the European Union, such as their names, birthdates and ID numbers, will require special protection against data theft.

As of May 25, 2018, anyone processing such customer information will have to take special security aspects and requirements into account. These include data encryption, the right to data access and erasure.

We will help you become GDPR compliant:

- Consultancy on new rules and regulations
- Identifying personal data
- Securing your system access
- Anonymizing the information stored
- Developing erasure concepts and risk matrices

