Multiply your customer centricity with NDC.
And get your finance system ready for ONE Order.

What NDC and ONE Order is all about

The benefits of NDC (New Distribution Capability) are obvious: you can reach passengers faster and with suitable offers. Without any detours. You can boost customer centricity while saving money at the same time. Of course, that's what you want to do. It's what you do already as an airline – by selling tickets directly on your website. NDC aims to duplicate this process to travel agents.

But what about ONE Order? Can your finance system mirror this innovative "ticket replacement"? You don't know? We do!

- Is your revenue & pricing management ready for NDC?
- Are you trying to implement solutions from different providers? That's not necessary.
- Our NDC platform comes from a single source and comprises all parts from offer to revenue accounting
- We are an active member of IATA Working Groups in this field
